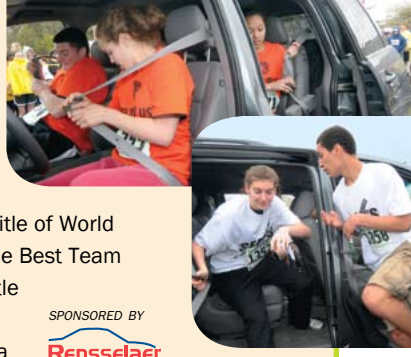
A Tribute to Victims and Survivors

Sean's Run pays special tribute to survivors/ victims of drunk driving crashes and remembers all who have lost their lives to this preventable tragedy.

People who have survived a crash or have lost children, grandchildren, siblings, spouses or parents to alcohol-involved wrecks are our special guests. They are offered complimentary entry and are warmly welcomed.

The World Championship Battle of the Belts



High schools, middle schools and youth groups from throughout the region send teams to compete in this fun-filled seat belt contest. Winners earn bragging rights to the title of World Champions. There are also awards for Best Team Names, the Best Team T-shirts and teams with Loudest Cheering Sections. The Battle is waged at high noon, 12:00 PM. All team members must be individually registered in Sean's Run by each submitting a registration form and entry fee.

Extra contributions – where does the money go?

In nine years, thanks to the generosity of sponsors, contributors and participants who add donations to their entry fees, Sean's Run has raised and given away $138,050 to support youth programs and scholarships. Youth groups from around the region use Sean's Run grants to combat underage drinking and encourage teenagers to always use seatbelts. Sixty-eight deserving seniors from the region have been awarded scholarships.

Sea Jem's Super Saturday Run for Special Needs Kids

Kids with special needs and other developmental disabilities are provided the opportunity to experience the fun of Sean's Run, including all the amenities. A special feature of the Sean's Run event, this short-but-special group run at Chatham High School will be conducted at 3:00 PM on Saturday, April 30th, the day before the 5K and Meghan's Mile. It has been planned in cooperation with the Capital Region Miracle League, Burke Adams founder. Participants should arrive by 2:30 PM. Sponsored by Sea Jem Imports, the premier seafood processor and distributor located in the heart of Boston, MA.

About Sean

Sean Patrick French, a 17-year-old high school junior, community volunteer, honor roll student and record- setting athlete at Chatham High School, lost his life on January 1, 2002, as a passenger in a drunk driving car crash. Another passenger, 17-year-old Ian Moore, suffered paralyzing injuries. Neither was using seat belts. The driver, also 17, had been arrested for drunken driving 18 days prior to the fatal crash. This tragedy prompted the enactment of Sean's Law, which now requires the immediate suspension of a license upon the arrest of a 16- or 17-year-old on drunken driving charges.
